

METALGATE

Of Desert and Nuclear Winter

Last year's installment of the Czech metal feast MetalGate Czech Death Fest brought music-wise, many strong performances. One of those was undeniably the show of the Mesopotamian black-thrash metal horde ARALLU that came from Jerusalem to present their Middle Eastern take on metal, which brought them rightful ovations.

If you count yourself among their fans, either from before, or from their performance on MGCDF 2016 onward, we bring you great news – this April, i.e. from 21st till 29th, ARALLU are coming back to Central Europe on the Nuclear Desert Tour 2017, which will take them to several places around Czech Republic, but also to Germany and Slovakia!

And should you did not have the opportunity, Nuclear Desert Tour is the ideal way to get acquainted with ARALLU. You will not regret it. These genies of the desert haunt the Israeli metal scene from already 1997, and since then supported on their home soil such global icons as Enslaved, Mayhem or Behemoth, toured Europe several times, and released five studio albums. The band is currently preparing the next addition to its discography, entitled "Six", which will be released this June under the India-based label Transcending Obscurity. On its album, as well as on live shows, ARALLU enrich their black-thrash madness with traditional Middle Eastern instruments, which gives their music an extra dimension and charge.

Since there is strength in numbers, ARALLU will not tour alone, but in the company of the Czech black metal pack NAURRAKAR that has been spreading its apocalyptic visions, recently of nuclear character, in Czech underground since 2007. Seek no experiments here, but a straightforward, nihilistic darkness.

Gear up then for séances ruled on one hand by the unforgiving desert with its ancient mysteries, and by the all-encompassing nuclear winter on the other. These you can visit on the following dates and in the following places:
