METALGATE RECORDS PROUDLY PRESENTS: AWRIZIS – DREADFUL REFLECTION

It took five years. Five years, if we do not count the split album with DESIRE FOR SORROW that came out in 2016. Now however, the wait is over, for today marks the release of the brand new album of the hybrid metal horde AERIZIS, and we can tell that it was well worth the wait! “Dreadful Reflection” is a splendid piece that will, on the scope of ten songs, take you through various extreme metal landscapes, while pumping a load of energy into your veins and first and foremost showcasing that the main thing at stake here is freedom.

Love of freedom emanates from every note of “Dreadful Reflection”, from every aspect of the album. Not only do individual songs have different vibe and emotional charge, whereby each one is de facto of a different genre, but no limits are placed in the visual and lyrical aspect as well, which only underscores how vital the freedom of creative expression is for the band leader and main composer Marek “Frodys” Pytlik.

If freedom is the conceptual pillar of the album, then the main goal composition-wise was to flood the listener with as much energy as possible. Since guitars are the main affective carriers here, special emphasis was placed on their raw sound during the recording sessions at the GM Studio. On top of that, the vocal side was reinforced by guest participation of three notable vocalists from the Czech scene, i.e. Chymus (ISACAARUM, ANTIGOD), Bilos (MALIGNANT TUMOUR) and Bruno (KRABATHOR, HYPNOS), which adds even more thrust to the piece.

And a bit of trivia to conclude with – did you know that composing the new album was in a sense a therapy for Frodys? “Dreadful Reflection” is thus his most personal statement to date, and, as Frodys himself observes, maybe the reason why the album is so “odd”.

After all, see for yourself, as the MarastMusic e-zine streams exclusively the album in full!

Well, now it is up to you as to what terms will you use to describe the album. Only the positive ones we hope. “Dreadful Reflection” is out now in a digibook format and is available on MetalGate e-shop. Be sure also not to miss the album release party, taking place April 7 in Ostrava in the company of DESIRE FOR SORROW, MEAN MESSIAH, DILIGENCE, DOGMA INC. and PURNAMA. Get ready for a helluva ride!
